Note: From 1961-1973, Hondo (nom de plume, or alias, or AKA Peter Cedarstacker) wrote a social satire column for the Comfort News. The fictional town of Cedar Creek and all of its characters eventually became the real town of Luckenbach and all of its characters (and Luckenbach has some real characters!) The MOON reserves a special corner for Peter Cedarstacker, Writer, as a corner of wit and human insight for us today.

-Becky Crouch Barrales

CEDAR CREEK CLIPPINGS

Senator Garble attended his 75 cents-a-plate fund raisin' dinner in Bear Creek Sat. and dropped by the Cedar Creek beer-joint post office-grocery store for a few beers on his happy way to Big Flat. He was happy as a lark and sound as a dollar. (That's half-sort, you know).

We asked him 'bout the big fair they want to have in Big Flat and to give us the high points. He gave us the low-down. Said he's gonna use all kinda tricks to make it look hard for the fair people to get ten billion (well somethin' like that) of our tax money to make the fair (sounds foul). Everyone, especially those who don't vote for him will hate him and call him bad names. We vote for him anyway in Cedar Creek, we don't care. Then at the last minute he said he'll make a few "Oklahoma promises in Washington and get the money just in time.

The ugly name callin' don't embarrass me none," he said. "I'm too ignorant, and by that time everyone, especially those who don't vote for me, will be so glad they'll jump up and down, clap their hands together and vote for me."

"That's cute," I said to him. "Where'd you learn that?" He answered, "In the Political Science Course I took in a Union Trade school in Big Flat. The course was Contrivance 301, no, it was Trickery 301.4 and I never woulda passed that if I hadn't been takin' Cheatin' 201.3. And since it was a six hour course, I never took Scruples 602.1."

We all knew that and bought him another free beer and laughed at him when he told a joke.
